

Don't Let Your Allies Outdo You in Patriotism

In the third year of the war, France staggered under terrible burdens, has subscribed to a new loan four billions of dollars—twice our first installment. Shall we let this gallant nation, who is fighting our battle, shame us by her sacrifices?

Every rank and every occupation in France has eagerly pressed forward to aid the government with its savings. An American in France writes, "I have seen an aged street cleaner rest his broom against the counter of the bank as he clipped coupons from small government bonds bought with the savings of his toil. Longside him were tired little seamstresses, women of wealth, hucksters—all doing what they could, by saving, to aid their beloved country."

MATERNITY

Maternity and "MOTHER'S FRIEND" have long been thought of together. "MOTHER'S FRIEND" is a tried and reliable preparation prepared especially for the expectant Mother. The muscles expand easier. The breasts are kept in good condition. The crisis is one of much less pain. The muscles relax more naturally after baby arrives, and the form is preserved. There is in "MOTHER'S FRIEND" that direct help all expectant mothers need.

THE LATEST WAR NEWS

English forces have dealt a mighty blow against the German line in Belgium and have been rewarded with notable gains in territory and the capture of more than 5,000 prisoners and numerous guns of various caliber. In addition they inflicted heavy casualties on the Germans.

Over a front of more than nine miles, extending from the region of the Ypres southward nearly to Armentieres, the British started their drive in the early hours of Thursday morning and at nightfall had everywhere advanced their line, capturing villages and numerous points of vantage, among the latter the Messines-Wyschaete ridge, which commands the surrounding plains for miles and which for two and a half years has been a troublesome salient. The villages of Messines and Wyschaete fell into the hands of British during the attack, and in a second drive they occupied the village of Ostoverne, and trenches east of the village on a front of more than five miles.

Great preparations are being made in France for the arrival of American troops. Already an American transport containing food for them has arrived in a French port and American warships are anchored off the French coast. Camps have been prepared for all branches of the American forces that are expected.

COFFMAN THE WINNER

W. D. Coffman won the handsome kitchen cabinet given away by N. O. True & Co. at McKinney the other day. A large crowd attended the drawing.

The German nation now to aid will cause disapprobation; Still we intend with hoe and spade To assist the germination.

The Interior Journal

E. C. Walton and J. H. Wright

Entered at the postoffice at Stanford, Ky., as second class mail matter.

TO INTERIOR JOURNAL PATRONS

A recent ruling makes it next to impossible to have the Interior Journal delivered by carrier in town. It would be necessary to place a one-cent stamp on each copy, which would cost us $1.04 a year. This would be only 46 cents less than we get for the paper, which makes the margin narrower, of course, than we can afford. The I. J. can be had at the postoffice, just as was the case before the city carrier was put on. We trust that this change will not greatly inconvenience our patrons and that they will readily see why it is made. Each ruling made by the post-office department makes it harder and harder for the publisher, who it seems, will eventually have to give up the ghost, if it is not stopped somewhere. In justice to our splendid postmaster, Mr. H. J. McRoberts, we want to make it plain that he had nothing to do with the ruling. If he had had, we are confident that he would have ruled in favor of his home paper, for which he has always shown the best of feeling.

To those at this distance it looks like a case of foolhardiness that the war tax should be taken off of social, athletic and sporting clubs and placed on those who give checks and drafts over $5, yet the Senate finance committee has recommended this. $10,000,000 in taxes is to be raised from one or the other of these sources, and it strikes us that the sports of the country are far more able to pay the bill than the average poor devil with a bank account. Those who enjoy luxuries should be made to bear the burden of the tax to as great an extent as possible while real business men should be given as light a load as can be arranged.

Betting on horse races sometimes knocks you out if you win as well as when you lose. A bell boy in one of the Louisville hotels won $1,000 a few days ago at Douglas Park and immediately invested in an auto. Tuesday night he went joy-riding in it and wound up by running over and seriously injuring five people, one the proprietor of Hotel Victoria. Now he is in jail. It is fascinating sport to bet on which one of the ponies will win in a merry-go-around the track, but oftener than otherwise it brings loss, sorrow and sometimes disgrace.

The Senate finance committee has agreed to put a prohibitive tax on distillation of whisky, by providing a penalty of $20 for every bushel of grain or other food stuffs used in distilling while the war lasts. One good result of the war, that can have few such results, will be the hastening of many, when there will be absolute prohibition of the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors.

Paris, Oct. 1, 1917. A bond issued to improve the white and colored school buildings, which doctors and health officers pronounced hardly good habitations for hogs and veritable breeders of disease. Much of the tuberculosis which affects the people had its origin in such school houses, where light is a premium and fresh air an unknown quantity.

Judge W. H. Phillips, of Jessamine county, holds the record for county judgeships in Kentucky. For 39 years, without an interval, he has held the position in his county and is likely to hold it for life, if he desires. His popularity seems only exceeded by his ability.

The city council has fixed the tax rate in Owensboro at $2, much higher than Lexington, which is three or four times larger. This is paying a good deal for living in a town, for which we could never see any good reason for living in at all.

Oklahoma is in the midst of a harvest of 30,000,000 bushels of wheat. Texas is also reaping a big crop. Then with the crops of the other States coming in, we poor folks may be able to eat wheat bread once more at a reasonable price.

Maj. General Wood does not take a rosy view of the war situation. In a speech at Birmingham the other night he said that the United States might have to send as many as two million men to Europe before the war is won.

THESE ARE REAL CHICKENS

There is a young matron in town, who is an ardent fancier of chickens. But this is her first experience in raising them. Now she is so enthused over the experience she is kept busy setting all her hens and is buying all in the neighborhood with a brooding inclination. She has already a flock of chickens and the other day after one of our cool showers a few of her pets got wet. With tender care she gathered them together in her living room and built a good fire to dry them out. Not satisfied with this treatment she went so far as to get her husband's flask from the pantry and doped them up. In a short time the chickens were boozey inside and out and as vicious as rat warriors. Now the young matron wants to know how soon the chickens will begin to eat teeth.

WELL HATCHES EGGS

An artesian well of hot water that serves the double purpose of irrigating his land and hatching hens' eggs is owned by E. L. Edmunds, living near Oasis in the Coachella Valley, California. The water has a temperature of 101 degrees at the well. It irrigated six acres of asparagus from which Mr. Edmunds made almost daily shipments during December, January and February. Heat to operate an improvised incubator is secured by placing a five-gallon can with perforated sides in an irrigation ditch. The can is partially filled with sand in order to sink it. The eggs are then put in the sand and turned daily until hatched. As the water is at an even temperature at all times a satisfactory hatch record resulted.

BRONZE TABLET TO SAUFLEY

A Frankfort dispatch gives this story of an incident of much importance and great interest to the people here at the home of the late hero:

One of the most impressive ceremonies ever witnessed in the Hall of Fame of the Kentucky State Historical Society at the capitol attended the unveiling there Thursday of a bronze tablet, erected by his classmates at Annapolis to the memory of Lieut. Richard Caswell Saufley, of the Naval Aviation Corps, who was killed in a flight at Pensacola, Fla., June 9, 1916. Mrs. Saufley, daughter of Judge E. C. O'Rear, of Frankfort, and other relatives and personal friends of Lieut. Saufley were present.

The tablet was unveiled by Mrs. Penn Leary Carroll, who is the daughter of former Justice Hobson and wife of a naval lieutenant. When the exercises commenced the tablet of Lieut. Saufley, in uniform, above it, and beneath a wreath of laurel, which accompanied the tablet.

On a table before the tablet rested the flag carried by Lieut. Saufley when he made his aeroplane flight over Mexico in May, 1914, the first official demonstration in this country of the use of the aeroplane for scouting purposes. Besides it was the medal of merit presented to him by the Aero Club of America on the occasion of the flight, and a similar medal for establishing the altitude records of 11,056 feet November 30, 1915, and 11,975 feet December 3, following. These, with his "sharpshooter's" medal, were presented by Mrs. Saufley to the society.

The exercises consisted of a poem, "Our Sky Pilot," by Mrs. Jennie C. Morton, regent of the society; an address by Dr. W. A. Gaudin, president of Centre College, Danville, who those "Ideals, As Controlling Life's Destinies," for his theme, and two solos by Mrs. C. E. Collins. The National anthem was played by an orchestra, and the Rev. J. Carleton Pelton, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, pronounced the benediction. Miss Lucy Chinn, pianist, accompanied Mrs. Collins.

The weekly report of the British Admiralty concerning shipping losses by submarines and mines shows a decrease in larger vessels sunk, but a slight increase in smaller craft.

There are more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and for years it was supposed to be incurable. Doctors prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure the local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Catarrh is a local disease, greatly influenced by constitutional conditions, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Medicine, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is a constitutional remedy, taken internally and acts through the blood on the Mucous Surfaces of the System. One Hundred Dollars reward is offered for any case that Hall's Catarrh Medicine fails to cure. Send for circular testimonials.
